(Special to The Evening World.) PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Aug. 20.—Alternate clouds and sunshine kept the baseball fans guessing to-day, but the prospects of seeing two good ball teams play a double header brought out a big crowd. The Slowdown crew did not want to work overtime and "Angel Face" Hughes tried to cajole Col. Rogers into playing only one game, pointing out the fact that the Superbas had struck a winning gait and would be hard to beat.

But the American League teams are here conflicting with the Phillies, so it was decided to have a bunch on them by playing two games. The foxy Americans scheduled only one game to-day and will play two to-morrow, so they could make it horse and horse.

Keeler Hasn't Quit Champions.
"Little Willie" Keeler has not been kidnapped by Connie Mack, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding. He did not report yesterday, and Hanlon was worried. He turned up all right this morning and showed a badly swelled jaw as testimony that he had been laid up with an ulcerated tooth. Willie denied that he had jumped to the enemy or had any intention of doing so, saying that he had not had any talk with Connie Mack or anybody else connected with the American League.

He acknowledged that he was offered $500 last spring to play here, but had turned it down. He presumed that Connie Mack was using that proposition over again.

Joe Kelley a Father.
Capt. Joe Kelley joined the team at the grounds and was the recipient of a show of congratulations on the news that Kelley had been brought to his home in Baltimore by the stork. Hanlon was as pleased as the feast and remarked that whenever a young Hanlon arrived while he was managing the Bal-timores the Orioles always won the pennant.

With a new mascot in the Kelley household he couldn't see how the Champs could lose this year. For the first game the managers picked their best club artists to go on the firing line, figuring out that the team that won the first battle would have the best chance for the second. Townsend and Donovan were the selections.

Attendance, 4,000.

The Champions started the first game with a good batting streak, when hits by Keeler, Dolan, Kelley and a pass to Sheppard gave them three runs. The Quakers in their half couldn't hit the ball effectively. Good fielding prevented salts on both sides in the next two innings.

In the third inning McGuire had his finger hurt and retired from the game.
Farrell taking his place. As McGuire's injury will keep him from playing for at least a week, Manager Hanlon immediately wired to catcher Steadman, who was loaned to the Highland Club, ordering him to join the Brooklyn Club at once in Philadelphia.

The Phillies scratched out a run in their half of the fourth on a double by Flick, a passed ball and Dahlen's fumble of a grounder by Jennings.
There was nothing to the remainder of the game but Brooklyn, Donovan putting them over and the fielders doing the rest. The Phillies went out in order in the ninth.

SECOND GAME.

The easy victory scored by the Su-perbas put them on edge for the second and they were full of ginger. Donovan pitched another of his great games, allowing only four hits. Would have put a shut-out to his credit but for Dahlen's fumble in the fourth. He got brilliant support after that, a catch by Keeler near the flag-pole in the eighth equalizing that of Sheppard.

Hughes and Farrell and Donohue and Douglases were the batteries for the second game.
Bob Emlac complained of the heat and retired. McGuire and Orth doing the umpiring.

First Inning.
Keeler singled. Sheppard doubled to centre. Dolan out at first. Kelley flied out to Hallman. Keeler scoring. Daly singled. Cross. One run.

Thomas beat out a grounder to Dahlen.
Wolverton singled. Flick hit to Daly, who touched Wolverton on the way to Kelley for a corking double play. Delehanty walked. Daly tossed over Dou-glase's belt. No runs.

Second Inning.
Dahlen flied out to Hallman. Irwin was hit by a pitched ball and stole second. Dolan out at first. Kelley flied out to Hallman. Keeler scoring. Daly
singled. Cross. One run.

Thomas beat out a grounder to Dahlen.
Wolverton singled. Flick hit to Daly, who touched Wolverton on the way to Kelley for a corking double play. Delehanty walked. Daly tossed over Dou-glase's belt. No runs.

Third Inning.
Sheppard singled. Dolan forced him.
Kelley singled. Daly hit to Wolverton and Dolan was nailed. Dahlen flied to Cross. No runs.

Donohue and Thomas fanned. Wol-verton singled. Sick singled. Delehan-ty fanned. No runs.

Fourth Inning.
Irwin flied to Hallman. Farrell singled. Hughes sacrificed. Keeler flied to Cross. No runs.

Douglase singled and stole second. Jennings misused to Irwin. Hallman fanned. Irwin flied to Cross out. No runs.

Fifth Inning.
Sheppard fanned. Dolan out on Hall-man's assist. Kelley flied to Thomas.
No runs.

Dahlen fanned. Thomas out on Irwin's next play. Hughes assisted Wol-verton out. No runs.

WEST INDIAN STORM COMING

(Special from Correspondent with Team.)

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 20.—When the news of Sam Strang's suspension, the signing of Murphy and the queer new line-up of the Giants became commonly known, which was not until just before the game, surprise and almost consternation seized the other members of the team. It was a switch-about, for certain.

"Well," said Bowerman, when told of his assignment to the third bag, "I've been catching for six or eight years and will feel like a cat in a strange garret, but I'll do my best."

Hickman a Pitcher Now.
Hickman has grown so accustomed to being bumped from one job to another that he was not much surprised to learn that he was to become a star pitcher. He just smiled good naturedly and promised to develop more quirks in his right arm than ever were dreamed of in the old text books on anatomy.

Left-Fielder Frank Murphy, who is to be tried on second base, is a New York boy and should not be confounded with "Danny" Murphy, who was a Giant at the start of the season. He is a splendid batter and will greatly strengthen the team in that respect.

Strang Had Too Much Fun.
As for Strang, everybody was sorry to hear of his misfortune, but the general opinion was that it might be a blessing in disguise.

Strang showed earlier in the season that he is a fine all-around player when in condition, but for a month past his work has certainly been ragged and dopy.

The change was too marked for any natural explanation, and in looking for the reason Manager Davis discovered that Strang's outside engagements were too numerous for a successful ball-player. If Strang wishes to remain a Giant next year the way is open to him, but he will have to put a sharp limit on his other desires.

After New Players.
Manager Davis is negotiating for Pitcher George Merritt, of the Utica State League Club; for Catcher Mc-Manus, of the Syracuse Club, and Second Baseman Smith, of the Rochester Club, but he has not been notified as yet that any of them can be secured.

The attendance to-day was even smaller than yesterday, when there were less than one thousand paid admissioners.

Mathewson and Sammy Strang went over to the American League grounds to-day to see the Milwaukee and Boston play. "Pink" Hawley was slated to pitch for the Milwaukeees.

SEEKS TO ENJOIN PLOW TRUST.

Papers were filed in the County Clerk's office to-day in the suit instituted by Fred M. Pease, a Chicago promoter, against Charles R. Flint and other members of the "Plow Trust" for an accounting of profits. An injunction preventing the defendants from continuing business is also asked for.

Sergeant Shiels and Wardmen Glennon and Dwyer Taken on Warrants Issued by Jerome.

Sergt. Shiels and Wardmen Glennon and Dwyer, of the Tenderloin Precinct, were arrested late this afternoon on warrants issued by Justice Jerome, who, for the last week, has been conducting an inquiry into the methods of corrupt and derelict police officials.

The warrants were issued at 4.15 o'clock, and at once placed in the hands of three Tombs Police Court officers for service. The "tip" was almost immediately conveyed to the Tenderloin Precinct, and the men wanted held themselves in readiness.

Wardman Glennon was the first man served. The men bearing the warrants arrived at the West Thirtieth street station at 4.40 o'clock.
Glennon at that time was in the station-house, and when the paper was handed to him at once went to the telephone and held a conversation with the man with whom he had arranged to go on his bond.

He then went into Capt. Flood's private room along with the three warrant servers and the party held a long conference. Meanwhile Justice Jerome was on hand in the Criminal Courts Building to have the men arraigned before him.

Plans Delayed.

For a while this afternoon it appeared that the carefully laid plans of Jerome and Philbin would be infectual, because of the absence of an important female witness with a sworn deposition was necessary to complete the chain of evidence against the Tenderloin police officials.

She is said to be Mrs. Mabel, the keeper of an alleged disorderly house in Capt. Flood's precinct, and whose evidence is reported to be essential.

Her failure to appear at the time promised to swear to her testimony delayed the service of the warrants, and men were sent scurrying about town to find her.

She appeared shortly before 5 o'clock, and immediately after she had attached her signature to her statement the warrants were issued.

Fifteen minutes before the service of the warrants arrived at the station three men brought in the tip. They talked with Sergt. Todd and leaving the station walked up Thirtieth street and turned into Sixth avenue.

Shortly afterward they were seen with Capt. Flood and Wardman Glennon in close conversation.

Soon afterward the three men and Capt. Flood and Glennon walked from Sixth avenue to the station.
They were there when the officers arrived from the Criminal Court.

Shiels was acting captain during Capt. Flood's absence, and it was during the time he was in charge that the Maret woman, needed as an important witness by Philbin, was apparently spirited away.

The warrants were issued by Justice Jerome on application of the District Attorney, whose usual method has been to apply to the Grand Jury. In this case, however, much pains is taken to avoid the possibility of the accused men being "tipped off" as to the witnesses in the case.

To Outwit Spies.

The Grand Jury room is closely watched by the spies of the police, and every one who enters is spotted.
By putting the matter in the hands of a committing magistrate the warrants can be served and the persons accused will not know of the nature of the evidence or the identity of the witnesses until they are arraigned.

This is no reflection on the Grand Jury.

FIERCE RACE WAR IN A MISSOURI TOWN.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 20.—

Pierce City, where William Godley and his grandfather, French Godley, both colored, were lynched last night in connection with the murder of Cassie Wild, is to-day in the hands of hundreds of armed men, who are intent on driving all negroes from town.

George Lark, a porter on the St.
Louis and San Francisco Railroad, whom Carter charged with being Miss Wild's murderer, was arrested in Springfield to-day and is in jail here.

Lark protests his innocence and says the man who committed the crime boarded with him and fled him.

Bloodhounds put on the trail at the scene of the murder went directly.
It is said, to Lark's house.

All negro houses in the city are being fired by the enraged whites.

One negro, Peter Hampton, is said to have been cremated in his home.

Most of the negroes have left Pierce City and abandoned their homes, which are in flames.

A report was sent out that two negroes in addition to the two Godley men were lynched to-day. This is denied.

The mob broke into the arsenal of the local military company and is now in possession of improved rifles.

Eugene Barrett, a negro suspect, declares that a man named Flavors, who formerly boarded with Lark, was the real culprit.

Flavors, it is said, is under arrest at Tulsa, I. T., over the Territory line from here, and Barrett is under arrest at Mount Vernon, twenty-five miles from Pierce City.

Flavors undoubtedly will be lynched if brought back.

SCHWAB WILL NOT LEAVE STEEL TRUST.

From an authoritative source the Associated Press is enabled to deny the report that Charles M. Schwab is to resign the Presidency of the United States Steel corporation.

In the early afternoon President Schwab, Judge Gary and Robert Bacon, of J. P. Morgan & Co., were in close conference at the banking house.
There is a very strong impression that this talk had to do with the present status of the steel strike rather than with news affecting Mr. Schwab. The gentlemen concerned refused positively to talk for publication, but one of Mr. Morgan's representatives said later that there was nothing new in the strike situation.
